I agree with Annette Kellern that women have the capacity to define the democratic world. The female human rights of Europe should be the basis of the European constitution

WS 3 Creating a new paradigm for global languages, understandable for explaining basic rights in the framework of DEMOCRACY to experience that WE have ONE COMMON LANGUAGE

GENDER DEMOCRATIC EUROPE
I'd add: class, race, sexuality (dis)ability, Jan. Europe ⇒ incl. politics

There is a need that men and women learn NEW that it is important that they are all born by women. This is the ground of equality and democracy

We would like to have MORE MEN who SHARE our understanding of this matter

For me the most important question in the discussion was: How can WOMEN with their own new female language (in the sense of gender difference = gender issue) break the patriarchal/male structures, to make themselves understandable and acceptable
